WHISTLE BLOWER POLICY

1. INTRODUCTION

1.1 Purpose of this Policy

The Board of Directors (the "Board") of The Broken Hill Community Credit Union Ltd ("BHCCU") is committed to best practice in risk management, corporate governance, compliance and ethical behaviour generally. As a matter of best practice the purpose of this Policy is to:

- ensure individuals who disclose misconduct or an improper state of affairs, offences against the law or information that indicates a significant risk to public safety or to the stability of the financial system, at BHCCU, can do so safely, securely and with confidence that they will be protected and supported;

- help deter wrongdoing generally.

2.3 Misconduct or an improper state of affairs or circumstances

For the purpose of this Policy, misconduct or an improper state of affairs or circumstances is defined as:

- fraud;
- negligence;
- breach of trust;
- breach of duty;
- any conduct that:
 - is dishonest or unethical;
 - may cause harm; or
 - is prohibited by BHCCU's standards or code(s) of conduct;
- misconduct or an improper state of affairs or circumstances as provided for in section 14ZZT of the Taxation Administration Act.

2.4 Eligible recipient

3. DUTY TO REPORT

3.1 Duty of all BHCCU persons

All BHCCU persons have a duty to report known, suspected or potential cases of improper conduct. Failure to do so could result in disciplinary action. BHCCU persons must make a disclosure directly to one of the eligible recipients defined in this Clause 2.4 in order to seek protection as an eligible whistleblower.

3.2 Who to report to

Disclosures to eligible recipients of BHCCU

BHCCU encourages BHCCU persons and disclosers to make disclosures to an internal recipient of BHCCU in the first instance. This is to enable BHCCU to address what has been disclosed as early as possible. This approach is intended to help build confidence and trust in BHCCU’s whistleblower policy, processes and procedures.

The RCM is responsible for the management of the whistleblower complaint procedures and will seek the Board’s approval for all actions required following the investigation of complaints.

Disclosures to regulatory bodies

A discloser can make a disclosure directly to regulatory bodies, or other external parties, about a disclosable matter and qualify for protection under the Act and the Taxation Administration Act without making a prior disclosure to BHCCU.

An BHCCU’s person can make a disclosure external to BHCCU and qualify for protection as a whistleblower, if the person reasonably believes it is necessary to contact regulatory bodies or other external parties. Such external disclosures can be made to one or more of the following:

- the Australian Securities and Investments Commission;
- the Australian Prudential Regulatory Authority;
- the Commissioner of Taxation;
- any other Commonwealth body prescribed by regulation.

Public interest disclosures and emergency disclosures to journalist or Member of Parliament

An BHCCU's person can make a public interest disclosure or an emergency disclosure as defined in the Act to a journalist or parliamentarian under certain circumstances and qualify for protection. Advice on these types of disclosures and how to make them can be obtained from the RCM or a legal practitioner (see below).

Disclosure to legal practitioner

Disclosures to a legal practitioner for the purposes of obtaining legal advice or legal representation in relation to the operation of the whistleblower provisions in the Act and the Taxation Administration Act are protected under this Policy (see Clause 4 below)

3.3 No relief from legal obligation to report

BHCCU persons may have a legal obligation to report certain offences or other matter to regulatory authorities. Making a report in accordance with this Policy may not relieve a BHCCU's person such legal obligations. BHCCU persons should discuss with the RCM or obtain independent legal advice about external reporting obligations.

4. PROTECTION UNDER THIS POLICY

4.1 Whistleblower protection

This Policy protects an eligible whistleblower who:

- reports a disclosable matter as defined in Clause 1.2;
- makes a public interest disclosure or an emergency disclosure as provided for in sections 1317AAD (1) and (2) respectively of the: or
- makes a disclosure to the Commissioner of Taxation as provided for in section 14ZZT of the Taxation Administration Act.

An eligible whistleblower qualifies for protection from the time they make their disclosure, regardless of whether BHCCU person, discloser or recipient recognises that the disclosure qualifies for protection.

4.2 Identity protection (confidentiality)

When information is disclosed by an BHCCU person or a discloser in accordance with this Policy, it is illegal for the person receiving the information to tell anyone other than the Australian Securities Commission

(ASIC) Australian Prudential Regulatory Authority) (APRA, the Australian Federal Police or the Commissioner of Taxation any of:

- the information disclosed;
- the identity of the person making the disclosure; or
- any information which will enable the identification of the person making the disclosure unless BHCCU person or discloser consents to the disclosure.

Exceptions to this prohibition are contained in clause 4.3.

The RCM will provide assurance to a discloser that BHCCU is committed to protecting the confidentiality of their identity.

The RCM will explain the procedures BHCCU has in place for ensuring confidentiality and privacy (see also 'Protection of Privacy' below).

4.3 Exceptions to prohibition on disclosure of identity or information

The identity of BHCCU person or discloser may be disclosed without that person's consent where the disclosure is made:

- by ASIC, APRA or the Australian Federal Police to a Commonwealth, state or territory authority to help the authority in the performance of its functions or duties;
- to a legal practitioner for the purposes of obtaining legal advice or legal representation about the whistleblower provisions in the Act and/or the Taxation Administration Act ; or
- to a person or body prescribed by Commonwealth regulations.

The information contained in BHCCU person's or discloser's disclosure may be disclosed without that person's consent if:

- the information does not include BHCCU person or discloser's identity;
- BHCCU has taken all reasonable steps to reduce the risk that BHCCU person or discloser will be identified from the information; and
- it is reasonably necessary in the view of the person conducting the investigation for investigating the issues raised in the disclosure.

4.4 Detrimental conduct

BHCCU's officers, employees, contractors and their relatives, dependants or spouses, must not engage in conduct that causes detriment to a discloser (or another person), in relation to a disclosure, if:

- (a) the person believes or suspects that the discloser (or another person) made, may have made, proposes to make or could make a disclosure that qualifies for protection; and
- (b) the belief or suspicion is the reason, or part of the reason, for the conduct.

Examples of detrimental conduct include:

- dismissal of the discloser;
- injury of the discloser in his or her employment;
- alteration of a discloser's position or duties to his or her disadvantage;

- discrimination between an employee and other employees of the same employer;
- harassment or intimidation of a discloser
- harm or injury to a discloser of the discloser, including psychological harm;
- damage to a person's property;
- damage to a person's reputation;
- damage to a person's business or financial position; or
- any other damage to a person

Each example above includes detriment to or a relative, spouse or dependent of the discloser.

BHCCU's officers, employees, contractors and their relatives, dependants or spouses, must not make a threat to cause detriment to a discloser (or another person) in relation to a disclosure. A threat may be express or implied, or conditional or unconditional. A discloser (or another person) who has been threatened in relation to a disclosure does not have to actually fear that the threat will be carried out.

Examples of detrimental conduct do not include

- administrative action that is reasonable to protect an BHCCU's person from detriment (e.g. when the disclosure relates to wrongdoing in the discloser's immediate work area); or
- managing an BHCCU's unsatisfactory work performance in accordance with BHCCU's performance management framework.

Under this policy BHCCU's person is protected from detrimental conduct by any person (including officers, employees, consultants and contractors of BHCCU) and from a threat to cause detriment to a discloser (or another person) in relation to a disclosure. BHCCU will regard any such conduct very seriously and take appropriate action, which may include, in the case of employees, disciplinary action and dismissal.

Similarly, all reasonable steps must be taken to ensure that no person is subject to, or threatened with, a detriment because of any notification in purported compliance with the requirements of the Taxation Administration Act and APRA CPS 520 (see our Fit and Proper Policy).

The RCM will:

- provide assurance to a discloser that BHCCU is committed to protecting the welfare of the discloser; and
- explain BHCCU's processes for assessing the risk of detriment against a discloser and other persons after receiving a disclosure; and
- suggest counselling (or other professional or legal services) that are available to a discloser;
- strategies to help a discloser minimise and manage stress, time or performance impacts, or other challenges resulting from the disclosure or its investigation; and
- advise the specific actions BHCCU will take to protect a discloser from risk of detriment (or if the detriment has already occurred what specific actions BHCCU will take to protect and support the discloser); and
- explain how BHCCU will ensure that management are aware of their responsibilities under this Policy including but not limited to:
 - maintain the confidentiality of a disclosure;
 - address the risks of isolation or harassment;
 - manage conflicts; and

- ensure fairness when managing the performance of, or taking other management action relating to, a discloser;
- explain to the discloser how they can lodge a complaint if they have suffered detriment and what actions BHCCU will take in response to the complaint; and
- explain how the discloser can seek independent legal advice or contact the relevant regulatory bodies in the event they believe they have suffered detriment.

4.5 Improper conduct

Making a disclosure under this Policy may provide some protection to eligible whistleblowers in relation to their involvement in misconduct or an improper state of affairs. (see “What if the whistleblower is involved’ below).

4.6 Industrial relations issues

Employee and industrial relations related issues and human resources related issues are excluded from the operation of this Policy because there are other established mechanisms to raise such complaints.

4.7 Personal work-related grievances, vexatious complaints

Personal work-related grievances and malicious or vexatious complaints do not qualify for protection under this Policy.

Unsubstantiated allegations that are proven to have been maliciously, or are proven to be knowingly false, will be viewed seriously with disciplinary actions taken by BHCCU where appropriate.

5. HANDLING A WHISTLEBLOWER DISCLOSURE

Receipt of a non-anonymous whistleblower disclosure by the RCM will be acknowledged by the RCM to the whistleblower, The RCM will then promptly refer the matter to the appropriate person within BHCCU for investigation.

The RCM will keep the whistleblower regularly informed of the progress of action taken in respect of the report they make.

6. INVESTIGATING REPORTS OF IMPROPER CONDUCT

6.1 Who investigates a report

Where a disclosure is referred by the RCM to the GM, the GM will determine if the GM, RCM or a senior manager of BHCCU will investigate the disclosure.

In certain circumstances (for example where the disclosure involves allegations of fraud) the GM may inform the Board and recommend the appointment of external investigators.

Senior managers will only be asked to investigate a matter if they can do so in a disinterested manner. For example, a manager will not be asked to investigate any matter that relates to their own department.

In the event that the disclosure relates to BHCCU’s GM, RCM, or a director, such a disclosure will be directed immediately to the chair of the Risk committee.

Where a disclosure relates to a significant matter involving the GM, the RCM or a senior manager that reports directly to either of them, the disclosure will be directed to the Chair of the Board.

6.2 How an investigation is carried out

The person appointed to investigate the disclosure will be required to follow BHCCU's usual procedures for handling a complaint or disciplinary issue. This would generally involve:

- appointing a person within BHCCU who will be responsible for handling and investigating the disclosure;
- undertaking a fair, independent and discreet investigation into the substance of the report to determine whether:
 - (a) it falls within this Whistleblower Policy; and
 - (b) a formal, in-depth investigation is required;
- there is evidence to support the disclosure;
- the time-frame for the investigation being set;
- respecting individual confidentiality (see Clauses 4.2, and 6.5 further information on confidentiality);
- determining the nature of any technical, financial or legal advice that may be required to support the investigation;
- collecting all available data and investigating the disclosure;
- interviewing any relevant person in order to observe the rules of procedural fairness;
- proceeding with due care and appropriate speed; and
- consulting or informing employee representative bodies of the substance of the disclosure, as required.

6.3 Where the identity of the discloser is known

Where the whistleblower has identified himself or herself, the investigator would usually begin the investigation by interviewing that person. However, this person's identity would not be made known to any other person without the whistle-blower's specific consent, including in the circumstances set out in section 10.1 below.

6.4 Where the identity of the discloser is not known

BHCCU may not be able to undertake an investigation if a disclosure is made anonymously, and BHCCU person or discloser has refused or omitted to provide a means of contacting them.

6.5 Identity of discloser cannot be disclosed by investigator or any other person

- (1) Without BHCCU person or discloser's consent, BHCCU will not disclose information that is contained in a disclosure as part of its investigation process—unless:
 - (a) the information does not include BHCCU person or discloser's identity;
 - (b) BHCCU removes information relating to BHCCU person or discloser's identity or other information that is likely to lead to the identification of that person (e.g. name, position title and other identifying details); and
 - (c) it is reasonably necessary for investigating the disclosure.

- (2) If an BHCCU person or discloser makes a disclosure that qualifies for protection under Part IVD of the Taxation Administration Act, a person involved in the investigation is not required to:
- (a) disclose to a court or tribunal:
 - (i) the identity of BHCCU person or discloser; or
 - (ii) information that is likely to lead to the identification of BHCCU person or discloser; and
 - (b) produce to a court or tribunal a document containing:
 - (i) the identity of BHCCU person or discloser; or
 - (ii) information that is likely to lead to the identification of BHCCU person discloser.

This is except where it is necessary to do so for the purposes of giving effect to Part IVD of the Taxation Administration Act or the court or tribunal thinks it necessary in the interests of justice to do so.

6.6 Keeping BHCCU person or discloser informed during the investigation

A disclosure will be acknowledged within a reasonable period after it is received, if BHCCU person or discloser can be contacted (including through anonymous channels).

BHCCU will provide BHCCU person or discloser with updates;

- when the investigation process has begun;
- while the investigation is in progress; and
- after the investigation has been finalised.

An BHCCU person or discloser will receive an update in person from the RCM while an investigation is ongoing, at least every three months.

6.7 Documents and reporting process

The findings from an investigation will be documented by BHCCU and such documentation will be retained by BHCCU for five (5) years.

7. OUTCOME OF INVESTIGATIONS

7.1 What happens after an investigation?

At the end of the investigation, the investigator will report his or her findings to the GM as the investigator deems appropriate, to determine the appropriate response. This response will include rectifying any improper conduct and taking any action required to prevent any future occurrences of the same or similar conduct.

In the event that the investigation related to BHCCU's GM, RCM, or a director, the investigator will report his or her findings direct to the chair of the Risk committee.

Where issues of discipline arise, the response will also be in line with BHCCU's procedures for disciplinary matters.

Where allegations of improper conduct made against another person cannot be substantiated, that person will be advised accordingly and will be entitled to continue in his or her role as if the allegations had not been made.

7.2 What if the whistleblower is involved

A person who has committed or been involved in improper conduct will not be immune from disciplinary action merely because they have reported the improper conduct in accordance with this Policy.

However, BHCCU person's conduct in making the report is likely to be considered in determining what disciplinary action is appropriate.

In some limited circumstances, a full and frank admission may be a mitigating consideration in respect of disciplinary or other action.

7.3 Review

If a BHCCU's person or discloser is not satisfied with the outcome of an investigation, a review may be conducted by an officer of BHCCU who is not involved in handling and investigating disclosures.

The review findings will be provided to the board or the risk committee.

BHCCU is not obliged to reopen an investigation and may conclude a review if it finds that the investigation was conducted properly, or new information is either not available or would not change the findings of the investigation.

7.4 Compensation and other remedies

Nothing in this Policy prevents an BHCCU person or discloser from seeking compensation and other remedies, including where appropriate remedies set out in section 14ZZZA of the Taxation Administration Act, through the courts if:

- he or she suffers loss, damage or injury because of a disclosure; and
- the entity failed to prevent a person from causing the loss, damage or injury.

Nothing in this policy prevents a discloser lodging a complaint with a regulatory body if they are not satisfied with the outcome of BHCCU's investigation.

BHCCU encourages BHCCU persons and disclosers to seek independent advice regarding compensation and remedies at law.

7.5 Civil, criminal and administrative liability protection

BHCCU persons and disclosers are protected under section 1317AB (1) of the Act from any of the following in relation to their disclosure:

- civil liability (e.g. any legal action against BHCCU person or discloser for breach of an employment contract, duty of confidentiality or another contractual obligation);

- criminal liability (e.g. attempted prosecution of BHCCU person or discloser for unlawfully releasing information, or other use of the disclosure against the person in a prosecution (other than for making a false disclosure); and
- administrative liability (e.g. disciplinary action for making the disclosure).

Nothing in this policy grants immunity for any misconduct a discloser has engaged in that is revealed in their disclosure.

8. PROTECTING PRIVACY

8.1 Protection of privacy

To the extent that any of the information recorded by BHCCU constitutes “personal information” about the whistleblower under applicable Privacy legislation, the following applies: that:

- the purpose of the collection of that information is to assist BHCCU to respond to issues raised by the whistleblower and to protect or enforce BHCCU’s legal rights or interests or to defend any claims;
- personal information may be used for the primary purpose for which it was collected or for any related secondary purpose that could reasonably be expected; and
- personal information may be disclosed as described under this section.

BHCCU’s policy is not to collect “sensitive information” unless the person to whom the information relates consents to the collection and the information is reasonably necessary for one or more of BHCCU’s functions or activities for the implementation of this Policy, or the collection is authorised or required by law.

“Sensitive information” means information or an opinion about a person’s racial or ethnic origin, political opinions, membership of a political association, religious beliefs or affiliations, philosophical beliefs, memberships of a profession or trade, membership of a trade union, sexual orientation or practices, criminal record or health, genetic information, biometric information and templates.

9. ACCESSIBILITY OF THIS POLICY

This Policy will be made available to BHCCU’s officers and employees via the following:

- staff briefing sessions and/or smaller team meetings;
- staff communication platform;
- the BHCCU Employee Manual;
- training for new starters; and
- on the website.

For potential disclosers outside BHCCU this Policy will be made available by BHCCU’s website.

10. POLICY REVIEW

10.1 Reports provided under this Policy

The RCM will provide periodic reports containing a general summary of the number and type of cases made to the RCM together with a description of the nature and results of any investigation conducted as a result of a report.

In the compilation of these reports the identity of any person who has made a report under this Policy in good faith or any information, which may enable that person to be identified will not be disclosed.

These reports will be provided to the:

- GM on a regular basis (the frequency to be determined by the GM from time to time); and
- Risk Committee every quarter.

A consolidated report will also be provided to the Board Risk Committee each year.

10.2 Review and updating of this Policy and program

BHCCU is committed to monitoring the effectiveness of this Policy. A review of the Policy will be conducted every two years and any issues identified in the review will be rectified in a timely manner. Some issues that will be considered during the review are whether:

- the scope and application of the policy are appropriate,
- the policy, processes and procedures are helpful and easy to understand;
- the policy, processes and procedures reflect current legislation and regulations, and current developments and best practice for managing disclosures; and
- BHCCU's handling of disclosures and its protections and support for disclosers need to be improved.
